

INSPIRE

The first step towards inspiration is to share with one another why we love being a part of the Washington wine industry. Step two is to share our collective experiences and elevate our voices. Representation matters in all things.

We organize socials and get together to encourage communication and friendship with those in the Washington wine industry.

CONNECT

In order to create a strong community we need to get the word out. We want to reach all women and their advocates in every corner of the Washington wine industry.

Our community is only as strong as those who are involved and do the work. Your participation will help grow an eclectic community of strong leaders

ADVANCE

Education is imperative in all that we do. The Alliance of Women in Washington Wine seeks to provide outside educational opportunities, lead tastings and seminars, and share the knowledge we have learned from our combined experiences.
